

Greetings to all Kwa Sani residents, it is an honour that we get to meet again as we welcome spring, each day brings new challenges and a new lesson in our lives. As Kwa Sani we believe that there is no problem without an expiry date, hence together we have the potential to conquer any obstacle.

When we are called to task, as Kwa Sani municipality we rise to the occasion, the closing of pot holes in our streets recently is one of the tasks that we have taken very serious to ensure the safety of our vehicles as well as motorists in our streets of Himeville and Underberg. While service delivery is constantly in our minds we must not forget our neighbouring country of Lesotho which has been placed on a knife edge, as Kwa Sani community we have the plan in place to assist the refugees if the situation worsens.

We would like to extend our sincerely gratitude to our stakeholders around Kwa Sani for their immediate response when they were alerted about the urgent meeting that was called by Cogta last week. This showed me that at kwa sani we are one family and that a pain felt at Lesotho is felt at kwa sani.

Let us keep and preserve our streets clean, let us appreciate our environment and uphold Southern Drakensberg as one of the friendly tourist destinations in the world. On Saturday the 13th of September we would be hosting the Duzi to Sani Harry Gwala 4x4 expedition as well as the annual food tasting expo at Himeville, Tourism is the bread and butter of Kwa Sani municipality and the province of Kwa Zulu Natal where we traditionally welcome a steady stream of travellers from across the country and international tourists.

While we will continue to enjoy a strong reputation among holidaymakers, I am confident our strength in tourism business will also grow. We are constantly looking for ways to ensure the destination becomes competitive year round and continue to represent a peaceful, majestic sight of the country.

Untill next time stay blessed and enjoy the weekend ahead.
